

Beckham News In Paragragh

Beckham, Feb. 3. Mrs. Lillie Drinkwater has returned to her home after ending last week with her daughter, Mrs. Gibbs Martin.

Mrs. E. C. Martin, who has been the sick list for several weeks is now improving and is able to go to meals.

Samuel Martin, of Lynchburg, out last weekend with his uncle, Mr. Martin, and Mrs. Martin.

To Relieve Suffering

COLDS

Take 666

LIQUID TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

SANITONE REMINDER:

DOES YOUR Clothing need cleaning?

SANITONING WILL MAKE IT LOOK LIKE NEW AGAIN!

Our unique Sanitone process removes dirt, dirt, perspiration extra thoroughly. We lighten buttons. Minor repairs free.

Our Mr. Clark Will Call

Crutchfield's

CLEANERS & DYERS

LYNCHBURG, VA.

EHRICH'S

LYNCHBURG, VA.

OPTOMETRIST - OPTICIAN

Eye Examined - Glasses Fitted

Send Us Your Repair Work

PRESCRIPTION WORK

A SPECIALTY

WE PAY POSTAGE

1107 MAIN ST.

FIRST AID FOR INFLUENZA

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION FROM COLDS, INFLUENZA IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE

Keeping them at work is better than curing the sick.

LAST winter a big boss in Virginia was stamping around his office because far too many of his men were away with influenza. He knew that Uncle Sam had a deal line on that particular job, because they were building a huge powder plant.

Thirteen thousand men were supposed to report for work every morning and each day there would be anywhere from seven hundred to twelve hundred home sick. Defense work cannot wait and picking up skilled men in a hurry is not so easy.

The boss finally called in the company doctor who was naturally pretty busy with the general medical care of such a large force. He is a fairly young doctor to have so much responsibility but he met the emergency by a method better known in Europe than here.

His plan was to give half the force a daily quinine dose of five grains, and to the other half a daily dose of a pill containing only bicarbonate of soda. The reason for this was that Dr. Schurman wanted to confirm what his medical reading had suggested, and this wholesale administration of quinine was to be checked against the influenza rate of the men who took only the bicarbonate of soda.

His results, published in the Virginia Medical Monthly for June 1941, suggest that everyone of us this winter had better profit by the experience of the men who were phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

Leonard Martin and two children, S. G. Martin and daughter, and Samuel Martin were in Appomattox Saturday night.

Shirley Mae Morris, of Appomattox, is visiting in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Morris, of Stapleton.

Hiram Brien, of Richmond, spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morris and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Martin Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Winston Martin, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, and Mrs. Adie Morris, of Lynchburg.

Lillian and Eunice Martin, of Lynchburg, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Martin.

Ethel Lee Martin and Katie Coleman visited Colma Drinkwater last week.

Herman Moore Jr. returned Sunday night to Ashland, where he is a student, after spending the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Moore, of Beckham.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Martin Jr. were Sunday guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Martin.

Mrs. Maxine Story is in Lynchburg, where she has secured work.

Frances Drinkwater also has accepted work in Lynchburg.

Appomattox, Wayside, Feb. 3. Rev. Brown is sick and was unable to preach at Red Oak last Sunday morning.

The officers and the Sunday School teachers of New Hope church met at the church every Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. Prayer meeting is also every Wednesday night. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Bertha Gills, Miss Cornelia Gills and Alfred O'Brien spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gills, at Clarksville.

Mrs. Mary Sue Gordon's class will meet on the second Thursday night, February 12, at 7:30 P. M. A par-ticular patient is being planned and a speaker invited. All patrons and friends are urged to come.

TO WITHHOLD CANNED FOODS FOR ARMED FORCES

The War Production Board has a percentage of canned goods in 1942 to insure ample supplies of certain foods for the armed forces.

The Vera community league will meet on the second Thursday night, February 12, at 7:30 P. M. A par-ticular patient is being planned and a speaker invited. All patrons and friends are urged to come.

TO WITHHOLD CANNED FOODS FOR ARMED FORCES

The War Production Board has a percentage of canned goods in 1942 to insure ample supplies of certain foods for the armed forces.

Wise Shoppers Will Drop Everything And Join The Crowds Heading For Lynchburg's GREAT SEMI-ANNUAL DOLLAR DAY

Monday February 9th

ONE DAY ONLY

Dollar Day Ads Will Appear In LYNCHBURG ADVANCE, SAT. FEB. 7 LYNCHBURG NEWS, SUN. FEB. 8

Participating Stores

BALDWIN'S
BELL SHOE CO.
BOWEN JEWELRY CO.
C. M. GUGGENHEIMER, CORP.
J. KULMAN
LEGGETT'S DEPT. STORE
McGEEHURN FURN. CO.
J. R. MILLNER CO., INC.

D. MOSES & CO.
PHILLIPS BROS.
REAMS & CO.
RYLAND - HENEBRY, INC.
SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO.
SNYDER & BERMAN
VOGUE, INC.
J. E. WOOD & BRO.

WILLS - CAMP CO.

Sponsored by The Lynchburg Retail Merchant's Association

Oakville News And Personals

Oakville, Feb. 3. Mr. and Mrs. Burton Daye and daughter, Rachel Lee, Mrs. V. B. Daye and Miss Rosie Daye, of Toga, spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bass.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity. We find Him in three places.

I. In the Church (vv. 21-28).

The Sabbath day found our Lord with His people in the synagogue, the place of worship. The service of worship was probably formal and lacking in spiritual vitality, but none-the-less He was there. What have we to say if we miss the opportunity for fellowship and service which church attendance brings us?

Observe that because He was there He (as a distinguished religious teacher) was called upon to teach the people. He taught them in the serene consciousness of His divine authority, and the people were delighted and astonished at His message. We may not serve exactly as He did, but if we present ourselves in God's house on His day we will find the way opening for us to share in the worship.

Jesus not only spoke, but He performed a miracle. Certain it is that we could not do what He did, but we can be ready to give ourselves in service as well as in worship, or in speaking. There is much work to be done in the church, and the people should be ready and willing to do it.

II. In the Home (vv. 29-31).

In the synagogue Christ went into the home. How appropriate! We too should bring with us the strength and blessing of the worship service.

The daughter of a great preacher and Bible teacher said the thing she most loved in her father was that he did not give out the "cream" of his Christianity in his meetings and bring home the "skim milk." Too often we fail to bring into the home the power and beauty of the service in the church. We who have been very sweet and spiritual in the church should not come home to sour and crabbed.

Jesus brought a blessing into Peter's home, miraculously healing his mother-in-law of a great fever, setting her free to serve. Here again we cannot do what He did, but we can, in His name, bring power and blessing into our homes.

III. In the City (vv. 32-34).

From the home the ministry of Jesus reached out to the entire city. As the strict laws forbidding travel on the Jewish Sabbath were set aside by the coming of sundown, not only the city but the entire countryside brought their sick and needy to Him.

The scene staggers the imagination as one attempts to conceive of this coming together of troubled humanity for the Master's touch. Mark tells us that He healed many; Matthew, that He healed all, and Luke, the physician, is emphatic in saying that He healed every one of them.

We may learn from this incident that our Christian faith, which has been developed and strengthened by our time of worship and service in the church, should not only reflect itself in the home, but should reach out into the life of the community in which we live. The primary interest of the Christian in his city or the place of his residence should be spiritual, a desire to bring to bear upon the people of the community the power of the gospel.

There is, however, a secondary responsibility which is of much importance and that is the extending of Christian influence into every phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

his wife and baby visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doss Sunday, Mrs. Franklin and two sons came with them for the day. Alice Gull spent the week-end in the same home.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity. We find Him in three places.

I. In the Church (vv. 21-28).

The Sabbath day found our Lord with His people in the synagogue, the place of worship. The service of worship was probably formal and lacking in spiritual vitality, but none-the-less He was there. What have we to say if we miss the opportunity for fellowship and service which church attendance brings us?

Observe that because He was there He (as a distinguished religious teacher) was called upon to teach the people. He taught them in the serene consciousness of His divine authority, and the people were delighted and astonished at His message. We may not serve exactly as He did, but if we present ourselves in God's house on His day we will find the way opening for us to share in the worship.

Jesus not only spoke, but He performed a miracle. Certain it is that we could not do what He did, but we can be ready to give ourselves in service as well as in worship, or in speaking. There is much work to be done in the church, and the people should be ready and willing to do it.

II. In the Home (vv. 29-31).

In the synagogue Christ went into the home. How appropriate! We too should bring with us the strength and blessing of the worship service.

The daughter of a great preacher and Bible teacher said the thing she most loved in her father was that he did not give out the "cream" of his Christianity in his meetings and bring home the "skim milk." Too often we fail to bring into the home the power and beauty of the service in the church. We who have been very sweet and spiritual in the church should not come home to sour and crabbed.

Jesus brought a blessing into Peter's home, miraculously healing his mother-in-law of a great fever, setting her free to serve. Here again we cannot do what He did, but we can, in His name, bring power and blessing into our homes.

III. In the City (vv. 32-34).

From the home the ministry of Jesus reached out to the entire city. As the strict laws forbidding travel on the Jewish Sabbath were set aside by the coming of sundown, not only the city but the entire countryside brought their sick and needy to Him.

The scene staggers the imagination as one attempts to conceive of this coming together of troubled humanity for the Master's touch. Mark tells us that He healed many; Matthew, that He healed all, and Luke, the physician, is emphatic in saying that He healed every one of them.

We may learn from this incident that our Christian faith, which has been developed and strengthened by our time of worship and service in the church, should not only reflect itself in the home, but should reach out into the life of the community in which we live. The primary interest of the Christian in his city or the place of his residence should be spiritual, a desire to bring to bear upon the people of the community the power of the gospel.

There is, however, a secondary responsibility which is of much importance and that is the extending of Christian influence into every phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

his wife and baby visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doss Sunday, Mrs. Franklin and two sons came with them for the day. Alice Gull spent the week-end in the same home.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity. We find Him in three places.

I. In the Church (vv. 21-28).

The Sabbath day found our Lord with His people in the synagogue, the place of worship. The service of worship was probably formal and lacking in spiritual vitality, but none-the-less He was there. What have we to say if we miss the opportunity for fellowship and service which church attendance brings us?

Observe that because He was there He (as a distinguished religious teacher) was called upon to teach the people. He taught them in the serene consciousness of His divine authority, and the people were delighted and astonished at His message. We may not serve exactly as He did, but if we present ourselves in God's house on His day we will find the way opening for us to share in the worship.

Jesus not only spoke, but He performed a miracle. Certain it is that we could not do what He did, but we can be ready to give ourselves in service as well as in worship, or in speaking. There is much work to be done in the church, and the people should be ready and willing to do it.

II. In the Home (vv. 29-31).

In the synagogue Christ went into the home. How appropriate! We too should bring with us the strength and blessing of the worship service.

The daughter of a great preacher and Bible teacher said the thing she most loved in her father was that he did not give out the "cream" of his Christianity in his meetings and bring home the "skim milk." Too often we fail to bring into the home the power and beauty of the service in the church. We who have been very sweet and spiritual in the church should not come home to sour and crabbed.

Jesus brought a blessing into Peter's home, miraculously healing his mother-in-law of a great fever, setting her free to serve. Here again we cannot do what He did, but we can, in His name, bring power and blessing into our homes.

III. In the City (vv. 32-34).

From the home the ministry of Jesus reached out to the entire city. As the strict laws forbidding travel on the Jewish Sabbath were set aside by the coming of sundown, not only the city but the entire countryside brought their sick and needy to Him.

The scene staggers the imagination as one attempts to conceive of this coming together of troubled humanity for the Master's touch. Mark tells us that He healed many; Matthew, that He healed all, and Luke, the physician, is emphatic in saying that He healed every one of them.

We may learn from this incident that our Christian faith, which has been developed and strengthened by our time of worship and service in the church, should not only reflect itself in the home, but should reach out into the life of the community in which we live. The primary interest of the Christian in his city or the place of his residence should be spiritual, a desire to bring to bear upon the people of the community the power of the gospel.

There is, however, a secondary responsibility which is of much importance and that is the extending of Christian influence into every phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

his wife and baby visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doss Sunday, Mrs. Franklin and two sons came with them for the day. Alice Gull spent the week-end in the same home.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity. We find Him in three places.

I. In the Church (vv. 21-28).

The Sabbath day found our Lord with His people in the synagogue, the place of worship. The service of worship was probably formal and lacking in spiritual vitality, but none-the-less He was there. What have we to say if we miss the opportunity for fellowship and service which church attendance brings us?

Observe that because He was there He (as a distinguished religious teacher) was called upon to teach the people. He taught them in the serene consciousness of His divine authority, and the people were delighted and astonished at His message. We may not serve exactly as He did, but if we present ourselves in God's house on His day we will find the way opening for us to share in the worship.

Jesus not only spoke, but He performed a miracle. Certain it is that we could not do what He did, but we can be ready to give ourselves in service as well as in worship, or in speaking. There is much work to be done in the church, and the people should be ready and willing to do it.

II. In the Home (vv. 29-31).

In the synagogue Christ went into the home. How appropriate! We too should bring with us the strength and blessing of the worship service.

The daughter of a great preacher and Bible teacher said the thing she most loved in her father was that he did not give out the "cream" of his Christianity in his meetings and bring home the "skim milk." Too often we fail to bring into the home the power and beauty of the service in the church. We who have been very sweet and spiritual in the church should not come home to sour and crabbed.

Jesus brought a blessing into Peter's home, miraculously healing his mother-in-law of a great fever, setting her free to serve. Here again we cannot do what He did, but we can, in His name, bring power and blessing into our homes.

III. In the City (vv. 32-34).

From the home the ministry of Jesus reached out to the entire city. As the strict laws forbidding travel on the Jewish Sabbath were set aside by the coming of sundown, not only the city but the entire countryside brought their sick and needy to Him.

The scene staggers the imagination as one attempts to conceive of this coming together of troubled humanity for the Master's touch. Mark tells us that He healed many; Matthew, that He healed all, and Luke, the physician, is emphatic in saying that He healed every one of them.

We may learn from this incident that our Christian faith, which has been developed and strengthened by our time of worship and service in the church, should not only reflect itself in the home, but should reach out into the life of the community in which we live. The primary interest of the Christian in his city or the place of his residence should be spiritual, a desire to bring to bear upon the people of the community the power of the gospel.

There is, however, a secondary responsibility which is of much importance and that is the extending of Christian influence into every phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

his wife and baby visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doss Sunday, Mrs. Franklin and two sons came with them for the day. Alice Gull spent the week-end in the same home.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity. We find Him in three places.

I. In the Church (vv. 21-28).

The Sabbath day found our Lord with His people in the synagogue, the place of worship. The service of worship was probably formal and lacking in spiritual vitality, but none-the-less He was there. What have we to say if we miss the opportunity for fellowship and service which church attendance brings us?

Observe that because He was there He (as a distinguished religious teacher) was called upon to teach the people. He taught them in the serene consciousness of His divine authority, and the people were delighted and astonished at His message. We may not serve exactly as He did, but if we present ourselves in God's house on His day we will find the way opening for us to share in the worship.

Jesus not only spoke, but He performed a miracle. Certain it is that we could not do what He did, but we can be ready to give ourselves in service as well as in worship, or in speaking. There is much work to be done in the church, and the people should be ready and willing to do it.

II. In the Home (vv. 29-31).

In the synagogue Christ went into the home. How appropriate! We too should bring with us the strength and blessing of the worship service.

The daughter of a great preacher and Bible teacher said the thing she most loved in her father was that he did not give out the "cream" of his Christianity in his meetings and bring home the "skim milk." Too often we fail to bring into the home the power and beauty of the service in the church. We who have been very sweet and spiritual in the church should not come home to sour and crabbed.

Jesus brought a blessing into Peter's home, miraculously healing his mother-in-law of a great fever, setting her free to serve. Here again we cannot do what He did, but we can, in His name, bring power and blessing into our homes.

III. In the City (vv. 32-34).

From the home the ministry of Jesus reached out to the entire city. As the strict laws forbidding travel on the Jewish Sabbath were set aside by the coming of sundown, not only the city but the entire countryside brought their sick and needy to Him.

The scene staggers the imagination as one attempts to conceive of this coming together of troubled humanity for the Master's touch. Mark tells us that He healed many; Matthew, that He healed all, and Luke, the physician, is emphatic in saying that He healed every one of them.

We may learn from this incident that our Christian faith, which has been developed and strengthened by our time of worship and service in the church, should not only reflect itself in the home, but should reach out into the life of the community in which we live. The primary interest of the Christian in his city or the place of his residence should be spiritual, a desire to bring to bear upon the people of the community the power of the gospel.

There is, however, a secondary responsibility which is of much importance and that is the extending of Christian influence into every phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

his wife and baby visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doss Sunday, Mrs. Franklin and two sons came with them for the day. Alice Gull spent the week-end in the same home.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity. We find Him in three places.

I. In the Church (vv. 21-28).

The Sabbath day found our Lord with His people in the synagogue, the place of worship. The service of worship was probably formal and lacking in spiritual vitality, but none-the-less He was there. What have we to say if we miss the opportunity for fellowship and service which church attendance brings us?

Observe that because He was there He (as a distinguished religious teacher) was called upon to teach the people. He taught them in the serene consciousness of His divine authority, and the people were delighted and astonished at His message. We may not serve exactly as He did, but if we present ourselves in God's house on His day we will find the way opening for us to share in the worship.

Jesus not only spoke, but He performed a miracle. Certain it is that we could not do what He did, but we can be ready to give ourselves in service as well as in worship, or in speaking. There is much work to be done in the church, and the people should be ready and willing to do it.

II. In the Home (vv. 29-31).

In the synagogue Christ went into the home. How appropriate! We too should bring with us the strength and blessing of the worship service.

The daughter of a great preacher and Bible teacher said the thing she most loved in her father was that he did not give out the "cream" of his Christianity in his meetings and bring home the "skim milk." Too often we fail to bring into the home the power and beauty of the service in the church. We who have been very sweet and spiritual in the church should not come home to sour and crabbed.

Jesus brought a blessing into Peter's home, miraculously healing his mother-in-law of a great fever, setting her free to serve. Here again we cannot do what He did, but we can, in His name, bring power and blessing into our homes.

III. In the City (vv. 32-34).

From the home the ministry of Jesus reached out to the entire city. As the strict laws forbidding travel on the Jewish Sabbath were set aside by the coming of sundown, not only the city but the entire countryside brought their sick and needy to Him.

The scene staggers the imagination as one attempts to conceive of this coming together of troubled humanity for the Master's touch. Mark tells us that He healed many; Matthew, that He healed all, and Luke, the physician, is emphatic in saying that He healed every one of them.

We may learn from this incident that our Christian faith, which has been developed and strengthened by our time of worship and service in the church, should not only reflect itself in the home, but should reach out into the life of the community in which we live. The primary interest of the Christian in his city or the place of his residence should be spiritual, a desire to bring to bear upon the people of the community the power of the gospel.

There is, however, a secondary responsibility which is of much importance and that is the extending of Christian influence into every phase of school, social, political, and business life. It is said that when D. L. Moody came into a bar-ber shop the entire course of the conversation changed. The Christian influence into every phase of the public welfare, the proper conduct of business in the community, and that of every Christian in America would vote according to his professed convictions as could put the saloons out of business in a single election. Why not do it?

his wife and baby visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Doss Sunday, Mrs. Franklin and two sons came with them for the day. Alice Gull spent the week-end in the same home.

Henry Allen Doss spent the week-end in Lynchburg with his sister, Miss Ruby Doss.

Ellen Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg with her sister, Mrs. Maurice Williams and Miss Phyllis Rouns.

Tom Martin spent last week with his son, O. W. Martin. Fleming Martin called in this home Sunday.

Helen Martin, of S. T. C., Farmville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Martin, Jr., of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Kinckle Martin were dinner guests recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore.

The Mt. Comfort Epworth League held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler at Appomattox Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Richardson, of Farmville, spent Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roach and two small children spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Miss Rosa Martin, of Liberty Chapel spent last Sunday with Mrs. D. R. Inge.

Lesson for February 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts see Council on Religious Education; used by permission.

A BUSY SABBATH IN CAPERNUM

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 11:2-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day—Revelation 1:10.

The Sabbath of the Jew and the Lord's Day (Sunday) of the Christian were both intended to be days of rest. The ordinary activities of life were to cease and one was to be free to devote to rest.

In a manner in which a man uses this God-given day of rest is a remarkable accurate indicator of his spiritual condition.

We have before us the account of a very busy Sabbath day which our Lord spent in Capernaum, the city in which we live. His ministry was done, but which ignored Him and His teaching to its own destruction (see Matt. 11:23, 24). As we look at our Lord's activity on that day we learn what we may need to do Sundays to make them bear fruit for eternity